GOSSIP FROM GOTHAM

ANOTHER OF THE MYSTERIOUS DIS-APPEARANCES.

An Ex-St. Louis Professor, formerly Henry Villard's Private Secretary, Among the Missing—Strange Case of Suspended Animation—Typhus Fever.

New York, Jan. 8.—The residents of New Brighton, Staten Island, are greatly excited over the mysterious disappearance of George A. Saker, who has not been seen since the evening of December 30, and the worst fears are entertained concerning his fate. Mr. Saker was formerly a professor of languages in a St. Louis institution and afterward was private secretary to Henry Villard.
Later on he started a tobacco business and cigar factory at 54 Chatham street. He was about sixty years of age, tall, robust and mannerly, and lived with his wife and two grown up daughters at Hamilton park, New Brighton.

Ralph Wallman, the foreman at his store, says he feels sure his employer had been followed up, robbed and murdered. Mr. Saker had his desk near the window of the store and the mysterious disappearance of George A. Saker, who has not been seen since the evening of December 30, and the
worst fears are entertained concerning his fate. Mr. Saker was formerly a professor of languages in a St. Louis institution and afterward was private secretary to Henry Villard.
Later on he started a tobacco business and cigar factory at 54 Chatham street. He was about sixty years of age, tall, robust and
mannerly, and lived with his wife and two grown up daughters at Hamilton park, New Brighton.

About 8 o'clock on the evening of December 30 Mr. Saker sat down at his desk and began counting his money. There was $500, which, after counting, he placed in a large brown leather pocketbook, and then put it in his breast pocket. While he was counting the money Wallman noticed three suspicious looking men watching his movements from the outside. When Mr. Saker put the money into his pocket and arose from his seat the three men stepped across the street and stood on the opposite sidewalk. Shortly after Mr. Saker went out.
Some time later an acquaintance of his who was riding in a stage saw him walking toward the ferry. After this all trace of him seems to be lost. Mr. Saker took the money from his store it is believed, to pay some bills that were coming due on January 1.
His business was in good shape, and there was money due him on January 1. He had placed the matter in the hands of Mr.
Saker's lawyers. Together they called at police headquarters, and foreman Wallman showed them through the register. He pointed out several photographs that he thought resembled the three men who had been watching his employer the evening of his disappearance.

Andrew Carnegie's Views.
New York, Jan. 8.—A representative of the American Press Association made a call on Mr. Andrew Carnegie at the Windsor hotel, and asked him a question as to the political views of the great steel magnate. He said: "I did say," I believe, "that the idea of the common brotherhood of man was the basis of all my teachings, and that I was Christ and is part of his teachings, but modern socialism went back the hand of time from the ideal of progress. If the socialist for the acquisition of wealth and distribution of wealth were carried out at 7 o'clock in the morning, it would return to its original position before night, and the socialist would be again in the gutter. The equalization of wealth instead of being a remedy would be an aggravation of evil. The natural force for the acquisition of wealth as the dispenser of wealth must be left free to act. I do not believe the present mode of rewarding labor is just. So many have so many laws, and work regardless of contingencies, is not right.
Payments should be made in proportion to the profits of business. The best and only system for both capital and labor is a cash and based upon the ruling prices."

A New Hampshire Brewer for the Navy.
New York, Jan. 8.—The Portsmouth, N. H., correspondent of the Sun telegraphs: "I learn that the Hon. Frank Jones, of this city, has received from the office of the secretary of the office of the secretary of the navy and that he has the proposal under consideration. I presume he will accept it." Mr. Jones is a wealthy brewer. He has been repeatedly elected to Congress as a democrat. He is a competent business man and in every way well fitted for the position. He has always been a democrat and was a liberal contributor to the campaign fund in the recent election.

Strange Effect of Evil News.
New York, Jan. 8.—Amelia Schaefer, a young German girl, living near New Durham, received a letter on New Year's eve, informing her that her betrothed lover had been killed by an explosion in a mine. She turned pale, retired to bed, and next morning her mother found her stretched on the bed, her limbs flexed and her body warm, but otherwise presenting all the appearances of a dead person. All efforts to arouse her have been fruitless. The eyes have been closed, and wide open, and the flesh has a bluish white tinge. The physician pronounces it a case of suspended animation.

Typhus in the Tenements.
New York, Jan. 8.—Thirteen cases of typhus fever have been discovered in a tenement house in West Thirty-third street.
The patients were all taken to the hospital.
The tenement was found to be in a filthy condition, and the cause of the fever from speaking it was thoroughly disinfected.

Yid. Gilmore Successful.
New York, Jan. 8.—That John Gilmore is admitted to the will of the late Mrs. Mary Gilbert, by which Mr. Edward Gilmore, of Nibbs' garden, becomes heir to her estate. The will was contested by Mrs. Gilbert's relatives, but they failed to show that undue influence had been exerted.

Full Time for Crispien.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—All the shoe manufacturers of the city are on strike. The strikers are on full time. The stockholders of the Philadelphia Shoe Company have determined to move their factory to Washington, N. J.
The workmen who hold stock in the company are opposed to the removal.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE

Discussed in the House—The Oklahoma Boomers Want a Territory.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The chair laid before the house a communication from the secretary of the Interior recommending the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the establishment of a gun foundry and the purchase of steel, in accordance with the recommendation of the gun foundry board.
On a demand for the regular order by Mr.
Reagan, the inter-state commerce bill came up as undebated business, the pending question being a motion by Mr. O'Neill (Pa.) to strike out the section under consideration, the fourth, relating to long and short hours. Mr.
Lorr (Mich.) argued that this section would have only the effect of increasing the cost of transportation of the great products of the west, and reduce the price of land everywhere, and making foreign competition on grain at this season possible. No bill that could be passed would prove so disastrous to the commercial interests of the country.

Senate.
In the senate Mr. Plumb presented a memorial from the Oklahoma settlers, complaining of their expulsion by the army of the United States, and asserting the action was taken in the interest of the cattle syndicate who without authority had fenced these lands and were using their cattle pasture there. Mr. Plumb urged their cause and urged that the committee on Indian affairs should decide at the earliest date whether these lands could be opened to settlement.

The house joint resolution appropriating $200,000 for the relief of the cattle syndicate in Montana territory was taken up and passed.
Mr. R. D. Hunter, a cattle dealer of St.
Louis, occupied the session of the senate committee on Indian affairs in their investigation into the leasing of Indian lands. He testified he had $500,000 in Indian lands, and Cheyennes and Arapahoes, that Indians are benefitted as the money paid them was just as much more than they could get out of the lands by any other means, and the syndicate lands were generally fenced those accused could be tilted, whereas they could not be if they were not fenced. The testimony was of the same character as that given by other witnesses before him. It is probable a half dozen Arapahoe and Cheyenne chiefs will give testimony against the lease after the other side is heard.

A Reporter Sentenced to the Workhouse.
BOSTON, Jan. 8.—John Henry Kerrison is about forty, an Englishman, and a reporter on the Boston Herald. John A. Fynes is over fifty, a Yankee, and a reporter on the Star. For some time past reports had been made that Mr. Fynes was in a private asylum, and that he was a lunatic. Mr.
Kerrison, who was a friend of Fynes, began to talk loudly about some person Fynes, supposing the remarks referred to him. Kerrison was standing and slapping him across the face twice in succession, knocking him down. Excepting to a few friends nothing was said about the affair, and it was supposed the matter had been settled until Monday, when in the municipal court, the name of John A. Fynes was called. The court found him guilty and asked for a continuance of one day, which the court granted.
About noon to-day the case was called on, and Mr. Fynes appeared. He was found guilty. Kerrison went on the stand and testified that he was not making any derogatory remarks about Fynes in the season; on the contrary, he was speaking in his favor when he (Kerrison) was assaulted. The accused acknowledged having struck Kerrison twice, in consequence of his remarks about Fynes. Judge McCafferty found Fynes guilty and sentenced him to three months in the house of correction. Fynes has appealed.
The court room was crowded, and the friends of the two newspaper men who are both fantasy men of good standing in Boston society.
The verdict of the jury was a surprise, but no one present imagining that the penalty would be more than a few dollars fine and the cost of the trial. The verdict of Fynes to the workhouse was never dreamed of.

A Moral of Boston Gospel.

ECHOES FROM IRELAND

PARNELL STILL THE LEADER OF THE NATIONALISTS.

He Pours Oil on the Troubled Waters at Thurles and Draws the Malcontents Back to Their Allegiance.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—The second Nationalists' convention is being held at Thurles today to select a candidate for member of Parliament from county Tipperary, more suitable to the views of Parnell than O'Ryan, who was nominated in the first convention, and is attracting considerable attention throughout Ireland and England. Opposition is shown to Parnell by the delegates to the first convention in rejecting the Parnellite candidates, O'Connor, and selecting O'Ryan to fill the vacancy caused by P. J. Smyth's accepting an office under the government, which caused much comment in political circles, and the outcome of to-day's convention is awaited with eagerness by all political parties.

Parnell, William O'Brien, Mayne and Harrington, members of parliament, have arrived at Thurles in a special train. The engine drawing the train was handsomely decorated with bunting and flags. The reception given to the distinguished Land Leaguers by the people on their arrival was lukewarm, and indicated that the Parnellites would meet serious obstacles if they should attempt to dictate to the convention who should be its candidate.

Parnell immediately visited Archbishop Croke, and had a long consultation with him in regard to the course to be pursued in order to bring the refractory Nationalists back to allegiance.

Some surprise was created in the convention shortly after it was called to order by O'Ryan withdrawing his name from before the convention, and expressed the wish that his adherents would not oppose Mr. Parnell in his selection of O'Connor as the candidate of the Nationalist party. Mr. O'Connor's name was sent out before the convention, and he was unanimously chosen.

What caused O'Ryan's sudden change in his determination to contest Tipperary until the election asked him to retire has not yet transpired. It is reported he will be accepted by Parnell as a candidate for parliamentary honors from another borough in the near future.

Another Spanish Town Desolated.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—Disasters received from Madrid show that the earthquake shocks in that city were more severe than was at first indicated. The church, convent and fifty houses collapsed by the shocks, and fortunately no one was killed, as the people had abandoned the town and sought places of safety on the first shock being felt.

The Irish Police Kept Busy.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—During a raid by police in Killiney they shot and wounded two moonlighters and captured a number of small arms.

Our Representative in Congo.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Tisdal, American agent in the Congo district, has left here for his post of duty.

Death of an American Statesman.

VIENNA, Jan. 8.—Prince Carl Auerperg, the Austrian statesman, is dead at the age of seventy years.

Pacific Coast Politics.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The senatorial contest excites much interest. The leading candidates for Mr. Farley's place are ex-Senator Sargent, ex-Governor Geo. C. Perkins and Mr. Morris M. Bates. It is understood that Mr. Leland Stanford is willing to be a compromise candidate in case of a dead lock. Bidding in the legislature begins January 20. Messrs. Sargent and Perkins are both known as corporation candidates, the farmers' chief backer being Claus Spreckels, the sugar king, who wants to continue the Hawaiian sugar treaty and to spite the Chronicle. A Sargent man has been elected speaker of the assembly. Mr. Perkins is part owner of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and is popular as well as rich. Bates is a prominent anti-monopolist, an able but not attractive politician. He is certainly third in the race. Mr. Stanford's election seems far from improbable. In Nevada, Senator Jones is sure of reelection, unless some unexpected combination made.

New York's Skeleton Mystery.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Gray, the wife of Samuel Gray, the Carlton house printer, suspected of the murder of the young woman whose body was found in the ash heap in the sub-cellar of the Carlton house, New York, has been arrested in this city, and is now confined in the Fourth district station house. Gray is serving a long sentence in the New Jersey state prison for attempting to murder the woman arrested here. She admits that she is Gray's wife, but refuses positively to tell anything about herself or her husband until she is compelled to do so in court. It is suspected that she knows the story of the Carlton house tragedy. It was after Gray had quitted the Carlton house that he attempted to murder her, and after the attempt she said she could hang him if she chose. She afterward became reconciled to him. She has been sought for ever since the discovery of the body in the Carlton house.

Northwest Indian Agitation.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—The government has received information that Louis Riel, who headed the Red river rebellion in 1870, is using every endeavor to stir up the half-breeds and Indians of the northwest again to insurrection. He is secretly advising his followers to keep up the agitation for the payment of their lands taken by the government. He leads them to believe that all that is theirs and that they should take up arms if the government does not compensate them for their loss. He is working quietly so as to evade the law and avoid being hanged.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 8.—J. M. Dunlap, just appointed to a seat on the bench of the circuit court by Gov. Crittenden, was accidentally shot while at the office of ex-Mayor Shelly. Mr. Dunlap, who Monday resigned his position as police commissioner, was talking with Mr. Shelly, when a self-cocking revolver fell from his pocket and was discharged, the ball ranging upward into the thigh bone, producing a very dangerous wound. Great excitement was caused about police headquarters, as it was rumored that the wound was mortal. The bullet was found imbedded in the loin and the injury pronounced not fatal.
